What is Oktoberfest?
Fort Indiantown Gap Welcomes Outdoor Enthusiasts
Places to View Fall Foliage in PA
Survivor Outreach Services
September is the month we start to say goodbye to warm, sweet summer and say hello to the crisp, autumn weather. Fall is always a special time for our military community. We at MWR are striving to meet your needs and provide you with the best experiences South-Central Pennsylvania has to offer! There are numerous festivities custom designed by us at Family and MWR that will redefine your definition of fun!

In the beginning of September, we will be hosting a Doggie Dip and Yappy Hour at the “Splash Zone” Swimming Pool. Bring your furry friends to enjoy a night of fun, splash contests and an open swim for canines! Afterwards head on over to the Tiki Bar for Fuzzy Dog and Dog Lappers Drink Specials, the regular Tiki Bar menu, corn dogs and free ice cream for your pooch.

Midway through the month don’t forget that the annual Carlisle Barracks Fall Yard Sale is scheduled for September 19 and everyone is welcome! You can rent a space to sell your items or check out the projected hundred plus sales throughout post.

It is that time of the year again! October 8-11 is our annual Oktoberfest at the Army Heritage and Educational Center. Come out and enjoy carnival rides, live music, great food, the beer and wine garden and much more at Central Pennsylvania’s take on this wonderful German celebration.

Perhaps you may decide to traverse one of our area’s countless mountain trails, painted in hues of yellow and orange by our famous autumn foliage. Our Outdoor Recreation and Leisure Travel staff are always here to help you; whether you are looking for a challenging hike or a relaxing nature walk, or even a trip outside of the Central Pennsylvania region. School is also well underway for the youth of our community and with it comes the many after-school programs and activities that our Child and Youth Services has to offer. From backpacking to pottery, our programming offers a variety of recreation that is sure to meet the needs of your children.

Whether you are a service member, retiree or DoD civilian, we are here for you and your family. Excellence is our standard and we find it a great privilege to provide you and your family with only the best. Come join MWR in celebrating another unforgettable fall season. We look forward to serving you!
Oktoberfest is a traditional festival held in Munich, Germany every October that features beer-drinking and merrymaking. It is 16 days filled with fun, games and activities for the whole family. There are many games and contests that you can be a part of or sit back and laugh at. The cover features three contestants participating in the Wife Carrying Contest. Other activities include the Hot Dog Eating Contest, Snapping for Apples, Keg Toss, Stein Holding Contests, Sauerkraut Eating Contests and so many more. We at Family and MWR are looking forward to seeing you there!

Car batteries, why they die and what we can do to lengthen their life. Most of us have had a dead battery at one time or another. In fact, it would be very unusual if you hadn’t. You may be surprised to learn that only 30 percent of vehicle batteries last for 48 months.

Now that’s an average. How long a battery lasts depends on many factors. You may not know that one of the biggest factors is the temperature of where you live and drive. You might suppose that cold weather was harder on batteries because it takes more power to crank a cold engine, but the opposite is actually true.

Batteries in very cold climates have a life expectancy of 51 months as opposed to 30 months in very warm climates. The reason is simple: batteries are chemically more active when they’re hot than when they’re cold.

A car battery will actually start to discharge on its own within 24 hours in hot weather. It takes several days in cold weather. When batteries are left too long in a state of partial discharge, the discharged portion of the battery plates actually, for the lack of a better words, ‘die’. Recharging the battery will not restore the dead part of the battery plate.

One of the bigger problems for the way most of us drive, is that our batteries are often partially discharged. The biggest job the battery does is to start the car. It takes some time for the alternator to recharge the battery after starting. If you’re driving short distances, especially if there are several starts and stops, your battery may not fully recharge.

Another issue is that vehicles are coming equipped with more and more electricity hungry accessories like navigation systems, DVD players, CD and MP3 players, heated seats, heated steering wheels and so on. And we often plug in cell phones, computers and other gadgets. Combine that with short trips and it’s no wonder that our batteries are partially discharged.

Experts say we can extend our battery life by topping off the charge periodically using a good quality battery charger. You may’ve heard these chargers referred to as ‘trickle chargers’. They’re attached to the battery and plugged into a wall outlet to slowly bring the battery up to full charge.

The suggestion is to charge once a month in warm weather and once every three months in cold weather.

Another thing to avoid is deeply discharging your battery. Something like running the headlights and stereo with the engine turned off. That’ll take months off the battery life every time you do it.

Carlisle Autocare can even test your battery and tell you if it’s time to replace it.

Batteries are fairly expensive, so taking a few steps to make them last longer is well worth it. Of course, the battery will eventually need to be replaced. Always make sure you get a new battery that meets the factory specifications for your vehicle. If you feel you need more battery capacity than what came with your vehicle, talk with one of our service advisor about appropriate upgrades.

Oktoberfest is the world’s largest Volksfest, a beer festival and traveling funfair. This event is held annually in Munich, Bavaria, Germany and lasts 16 days. This folk festival begins towards the end of September and lasts until the first weekend of October. More than 6 million people from around the world come to attend this festival every year. Oktoberfest began in 1810 and is a very important part of the Bavarian culture. Other Oktoberfests are held around the world and are all modeled after the original one held in Munich.

This world-renowned festival originated on October 12, 1810 when Crown Price Ludwig, who later became King Ludwig I, was married to Princess Therese of Saxony-Hildburghausen. They invited the citizens of Munich to attend festivities at the fields by the city gates to celebrate their marriage. Horse races marked the end of the event for the celebration of the Royal Family and it was then decided to continue this tradition into the next year. Little did they know, in years to come, this celebration festival would become an annual tradition around the world. Agricultural Shows and horse races became popular events when the festival first evolved, with Agricultural Shows continuing to be held every three years. Amusements slowly became popular with few carousels and swings, then grew to be known as a fun-fair. Along with amusements the introduction of small beer stands were introduced, which rapidly grew to beer tents and beer halls because they became so popular.

Oktoberfest is known for the large quantities of Oktoberfest Beer that are served and the traditional, popular German dishes. Many individuals look forward to Hendl (roasted chicken), Schweinebraten (roasted pork), Schweinshaxe (grilled ham hock), Steckerlfisch (grilled fish on a stick), Würstl (sausages) Brezen (pretzels), Knödel (potato or breaded dumplings), Käsespätzle (cheese noodles), Reiberdatshi (potato pancakes), Sauerkraut or Rotkohl/Blaukraut (red cabbage) along with such Bavarian delicacies as Obatzda (a spiced cheese-butter spread) and Weisswurst (a white sausage) that are served during this 16 day festival. Along with the popular foods and drinks, visitors enjoy attractions, amusement rides and games.

We here at Family and MWR host an annual Oktoberfest and want to bring a little piece of German tradition right into your very own backyard. We thought this would be a great way to let families unwind, spend time together and enjoy some German traditions. We strive to make every minute of your time here in the Carlisle area enjoyable, and we want to kick the autumn season off right by inviting you to our annual Oktoberfest.

Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation exists to enhance the quality of life, enrich living and working environments and foster a sense of community for Soldiers, Family Members and Civilians. Since 2008, Carlisle Barracks has hosted Oktoberfest. This is a great opportunity for the military community to interact with the public in a positive and fun venue. Many service members have spent countless tours of duty in Germany and reflect fondly on their time aboard. We give back to our Soldiers and Families a quality of life that they have pledged to defend for us all.

Oktoberfest this year will be held at The U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center (USAHEC) on October 8-11, 2015. There will be fun for all ages. Please join Carlisle Barracks for a good time filled with entertainment, games, activities, friendship and the tapping of the Official War College Brew. There is ample parking on site and handicapped and auxiliary parking if needed. While at the event, you can treat yourself to a variety of foods provided by numerous vendors, beer and wine gardens or even enjoy the many artisans and crafts.

Those wishing to use Fort Indiantown Gap for hunting, trapping and fishing must attend a mandatory safety briefing and pay an annual $30 access fee.

The briefing covers the changes for the upcoming season which runs from September 2015 to May 2016, and orients those to the installation. A lottery is used to select those who may hunt north of Blue Mountain during regular rifle season. The lottery costs $10 and ensures a safe hunting environment and assists with managing the harvest.

Briefings are two hours long and are scheduled for the following dates and times in Building 8-80, off of Service Road:

- Sunday, September 13 at 2:00pm
- Wednesday, September 16 at 7:00pm

All fees collected are used for the protection, conservation and management of fish and wildlife at Fort Indiantown Gap, including habitat restoration and improvement, biologist staff and support costs and related activities.

Individuals should bring a current driver’s license, vehicle registration and hunting and fishing licenses. Bringing photocopies is encouraged. Anyone under the age of 18 is required to be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

Fort Indiantown Gap, headquarters to the DMVA and Pennsylvania National Guard, offers more than 17,000 acres and 140 training areas and facilities for year-round training. It balances one of the region’s most ecologically diverse areas with a military mission that annually supports 19,000 Pennsylvania National Guard personnel and more than 130,000 other states’ Guard, military, law enforcement and civilian personnel each year. It is the only live-fire, maneuver military training facility in Pennsylvania.

For more information visit the Fort Indiantown Gap website at www.ftig.ng.mil or follow them on Facebook at www.facebook.com/ftindiantowngap or call their community information line at 717-861-2007 or the Outdoor Recreation Coordinator at 717-861-2975.

Halloween Party: October 30
Places to View Fall Foliage in PA

Pennsylvania has a longer and more diverse fall foliage season than any other state in the nation, or anywhere in the world! The mountains will start to fill with color in late September to early October, and then the mountains and valleys will be overflowing with bright, vibrant colors by mid-October.

The burnt oranges, golden yellows and rich reds are colors that we all know as the colors of autumn. These shades of color present themselves in endless variations that we all love and reminds us that crisp air, warmer sweaters and hot cocoa weather is right around the corner. As fall approaches, the warmest months of the year are coming to an end. However, there is still time to explore and enjoy Pennsylvania’s beautiful landscape as it transitions into the crisp, sweater-ready months of autumn.

Whether you are walking, biking or driving around, Mother Nature offers a beautiful display of colors this time of year that are peaceful and presents a great opportunity to travel around Pennsylvania with the whole family. Have your camera ready, here is a list of a few camera worthy fall foliage areas in Pennsylvania.

Laurel Highlands, Southwest Pennsylvania

The Laurel Highlands is the perfect destination for a family getaway during the cool, crisp days of autumn. In this part of the state you will find the commonwealth’s highest mountain elevation and thousands of acres of unspoiled state forests, parks and game lands. The Highlands are known for their historic sites, covered bridges and special fall festivities. While traveling to this breathtaking, spectacular region, enjoy driving under a canopy of color on the areas scenic byways and historic routes. At the end of September, beginning of October, the ridges and valleys come alive with color. The “Discover Fall Scenic Driving Tour” guide provides driving routes through the Laurel Highlands that highlight state parks and forests, enchanting byways, picturesque overlooks and charming communities. Seven Springs Mount Resort is located in the Laurel Highlands and is Pennsylvania’s largest ski and four seasons resort. They offer a highly-interactive and unique way to see the breathtaking fall foliage. A zip-line is constructed to fit into the natural landscape; the canopy tour will provide riders with a heart-racing, pulse-pounding adventure.

Philadelphia, Southeast Pennsylvania

All across the Philadelphia region, the leaves turn from summer greens to vibrant reds, yellows and oranges. Philadelphia offers many areas for you to bring the family to enjoy the colors of this wonderful season; even pack a picnic to enjoy lunch amongst the colors! Midst all the tall buildings and busy streets lies Benjamin Franklin Parkway. This parkway is the most artistic and colorful mile you will find in all of Philadelphia. The parkway is lined with trees forming red, orange and yellow canopies over your head as you stroll through town. If you don’t want to be in the hustle and bustle of the city, The Wissahickon Gorge and Bucks County offer a more relaxed scene. Forbidden Drive runs seven miles parallel to Wissahickon Creek in the heart of Fairmount Park, and shows off a beautiful pallet of the fall colors we all know and love. Bucks County offers a number of different ways to enjoy the changing of the leaves. One way in particular, that offers a different perspective to view the reds, yellows and oranges of fall is by hot air balloon rides. The U.S. Hot Air Balloon Team offers hot air balloon rides that depart each morning and afternoon.

Pocono Mountains, Northeast Pennsylvania

The Pocono Mountains is home to 127 indigenous species of trees, plants and shrubs that illuminate the region when autumn comes around. This is the region’s most popular time of the year; many festivals, activities and special offers are all inspired by this wonderful season. They have a fall foliage train excursion where you can experience the canopy of colors and excitement all from a rail car ride. Also, you can do walking and driving tours around the area on their scenic stretches of roads and trails. On these trails you can see unmatched views of autumn foliage and discover the rich history of the region as you stroll beneath the falling leaves. If seeing the magnificent colors from the ground isn’t enough for you, they offer a bird’s eye view of the brilliant autumn scenery during a fall foliage air tour. In addition, you can float along the pristine waters of the Pocono Mountains or relax fishing and enjoy the unique views of the changing mountain landscape.

Pittsburgh, Western Pennsylvania

One of the many awards of living near Pittsburgh is the ability to experience the beauty of fall foliage every year. The cooler temperatures and changing of the leaves encourages us to get out and enjoy the outdoors. The hilly topography of Pittsburgh means we can enjoy the fall foliage in different ways. Grandview Park and Riverview Park are two of the city’s parks that provide amazing panoramas. Grandview Park is on Mount Washington, which provides a sweeping view of the city and the hills around it. Riverview Park is on the North Side of Pittsburgh and provides views of the stars and offers wooded trails and hillsides that overlooks the city; this view can’t be beat! A relaxing way to experience fall foliage near Pittsburgh is to take a bike trip along one of the many trails in the region. Whether you want to go for an hour or three days, the wooded paths offer a chance to experience the stunning fall foliage. One place that has spectacular scenery is Dead Man’s Hollow and the Big Savage Tunnel just north of the Maryland border. These places provide a stunning view of three states and their fall foliage.

Cumberland Valley, Central Pennsylvania

The best time for rich reds, golden yellows and burnt oranges to be seen in the Cumberland Valley area is mid-to late-October. Just north of Carlisle is Waggoner’s Gap Hawk Watch. This is a 20-acre hawk watching site and one of the largest concentrations of raptors in the United States. It is the best place to see golden eagles, one of the best spots in Pennsylvania to watch hawk migration in the fall and offers breathtaking views of the Valley. Colonel Denning State Park is another great place to experience fall foliage, but also a great place for sightseers and nature photographers. The 273-acre wooded park has a 3.5-acre scenic lake and excellent hiking trails. A strenuous 2.5-mile hike to Flat Rock offers a beautiful outlook of the Cumberland Valley. Another park in Cumberland Valley that is known for its views of fall foliage is Kings Gap. As you climb the winding mountain to Kings Gap, stop at the pull-offs for fantastic views of the Valley along the way. This is Cumberland Valley’s largest park, has an Italian villa-style mansion and offers beautiful views of the Valley on its many hiking trails. One more park in the Valley that offers fantastic views is Michaux State Forest and Pine Grove Furnace State Park. This is a scenic drive through the South Mountain Region of Pennsylvania and a place to enjoy the Appalachian Trail and Pole Steeple Overlook. This is a great opportunity to sightsee and capture the beauty of the reds, yellows and oranges reflecting along the two lakes.

Erie, Northwest Pennsylvania

In Northwestern Pennsylvania is a 16 mile stretch of road with gorgeous canopies of fall foliage from historic New Castle to Slippery Rock, PA. This drive offers breathtaking displays of shimmering yellows, brilliant reds and burnt oranges. Just outside of Slippery Rock is a must see site, McConnell’s Mill State Park. There is a beautiful old grist mill, scenic walking and hiking trails and a charming covered bridge. Moraine State Park is also well worth a visit. The peaceful roads are lined with numerous trees decked out in their fall best and this park creates a great opportunity for families to spread out a blanket and enjoy a picnic together observing the magnificent colors of fall. Another favorite area in Northwestern Pa for many foliage fanatics is right through the heart of Pennsylvania’s elk herd. This loop includes Bucktail State Park, Lock Haven, Renovo and the mountains of Emporium along the west branch of the Susquehanna River and the Sinnemahoning Creek. The fall color canopies over the road are breathtaking and many drive miles to attend the Flaming Foliage Festival at the Renovo in October. Another great area to see fall foliage in this region is the Longhouse National Scenic Byway. This is one of the most scenic roads in Pennsylvania and is a 55-mile loop through the heart of the Allegheny National Forest with plenty of breathtaking overlooks for great fall photos. Two great picnic and stunning fall foliage areas that you will pass by and are a “must see” are Jakes Rock Overlook and Kiasutha Recreation Area.

Our Fallen Soldiers have paid the ultimate sacrifice. Their Families deserve our respect, gratitude and the very best we can provide. If you’re a surviving Family member, Survivor Outreach Services (SOS) offers you access to support, information and services, closest to where you live, when you need it and for as long as you need it.

Survivor Outreach Services is part of the Army Casualty Continuum of Care. It’s designed to provide long-term support to surviving Families of Fallen Soldiers. Our goal is to reassure Survivors that they remain valued members of the Army Family.

Survivor Outreach Services helps in many ways:

Support Coordinators
The loss of a loved one often results in tremendous grief, which can be overwhelming. When faced with a tragedy, you may be wondering what direction to take. Your SOS Coordinator is your link to finding the resources and answers that will work best for you. Your local Support Coordinator is available to meet with you as you journey through this difficult transition by providing direct services as well as information, referrals and recommendations. He or she can also connect you with support groups, spiritual resources and bereavement and financial counselors. Your SOS Coordinator can also help you request and obtain copies of documents, navigate local, state and federal agencies, and direct you to additional Survivor resources.

Financial Counselors
In times of emotional distress, figuring out what to do about finances can create a heavy burden. Survivor Outreach Services Financial Counselors provide professional financial information and services in areas such as investing, estate planning, tax issues and basic budgeting. Our Financial Counselors are committed to helping you create financial security. They also help ensure you get the information you need to make sound financial decisions.
